Murder Charge Against Man In Lindbergh Case

Bruno R. Hauptmann Will Be Charged With Kidnapping and Homicide When Extradited From New York, Says Head of New Jersey Police; Accused Man Before Magistrate at Brief Hearing in New York To-day

Friend of His Died Penniless in Germany

Trenton, N.J., Sept. 24.—Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, to-day said Bruno Richard Hauptmann, when extradited to this state, would be charged with "kidnapping and murder."

Following a conference between Col. Schwarzkopf and David T. Wilentz, Attorney-General, at which extradition proceedings were discussed, Wilentz was asked by reporters what the charge against Hauptmann would be.

"We have the answer," he said. He turned to Col. Schwarzkopf to ask him if he cared to make it public now, and Col. Schwarzkopf replied, without hesitation: "Kidnapping and murder."

Attorney-General Wilentz said New Jersey would institute extradition proceedings against Hauptmann, but it was not likely his removal to this state would be asked this week.

IN COURT TO-DAY
New York, Sept. 24.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann was arraigned in the Bronx magistrates' court to-day on a charge of extortion in the Lindbergh kidnapping case and his case was adjourned for one week, until Monday, October 1.

The adjournment was granted by Magistrate Bernard Mogilsky at the request of Assistant District Attorney Andrew G. McCarthy.

Hauptmann said nothing during the brief proceedings.

Taken before the magistrate, Hauptmann stared straight ahead at Magistrate Mogilsky, and looked neither to the right nor left.

Standing beside Hauptmann during the arraignment was a man who took no outward part in the proceedings and did not identify himself. He was said to be an associate of James Fawcett, attorney for Hauptmann.

IN ARMORED TRUCK
The prisoner was removed from the Bronx County jail for the arraignment, in the women's compartment of a sheriff's van, an armored truck with bullet-proof glass.

Sheriff John Hanley said the prisoner had eaten a good breakfast of pork chops, bread, butter and coffee.

SIDNEY WILL VOTE ON BEER

A plebiscite on beer by the glass will be held at Sidney on October 6. The writ was issued from the Parliament Buildings and named W. H. Davies as returning officer.

In Kelowna a poll on the same question will be taken October 11 with Fred Tutt as returning officer.

National Scheme For Health Urged

B.C. Minister to Present Doctor's Views on State Insurance; Preparations Go Ahead For B.C. Legislation

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, who is recognized as one of the leading men in public life on the question of state health insurance, will present a brief on behalf of the Canadian Medical Association before the B.N.A. act conference at Ottawa, urging adoption of a national health insurance scheme.

Representing the views of approximately 10,000 Canadian doctors, this will point out the advisability of handling many of the health problems on a national scale.

In the expectation that federal legislation along this line will be promulgated in the future, British Columbia's state health insurance bill will be drafted to merge with a national plan, Dr. Weir explained. It will be presented to the Legislature in any event, whether federal action is taken or not.

Due to the time required in setting up the machinery to handle such a large scheme, the British Columbia legislation will be of an enabling nature. The clauses will probably cover the different phases of the

WELSH MINE TOLL AT 261

Only Fifteen Bodies Recovered When Pit Sealed After New Explosions

Associated Press
Wrexham, Wales, Sept. 24.—The death list in the Gresford Collieries disaster was officially placed to-day at 261, classifying it as one of the worst mine accidents in the history of Wales. Only fifteen bodies have been recovered.

Rescue efforts, carried on since the original explosion Saturday, were abandoned yesterday when a series of new explosions, fire and deadly fumes endangered the workers.

Officials, "with great reluctance," decided no one was still alive in the workings and ordered the shaft at the top sealed to shut off a flow of dangerous carbon monoxide gas.

The possibility that some of the victims had crawled into secondary seams and were still living was dashed by the latest rescue workers to return to the surface. They said these sections were rapidly becoming filled with flames and the whole mine was a "raging furnace."

A thorough investigation of the tragedy would be made, Ernest Brown, Minister of Mines, announced.

CITIZENS VOTE IN ONTARIO

People of Five Federal Ridings Go to Polls in By-elections

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Citizens in general, as well as politicians high and low in all parts of Canada, have their eyes focused to-day on five Ontario constituencies where voting is taking place in federal by-elections. The results are eagerly awaited as they are expected to show to what extent the tide of Liberalism evidenced in the recent Ontario and Saskatchewan provincial elections has moved.

Because of the significance attaching to the contests the campaigns were vigorously fought. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, made an appeal for the support of his party's candidates in each of the five ridings. Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and head of the mass buying and price spreads inquiry commission, was the chief speaker for the government.

Before the vacancies occurred two of the seats were Liberal and three were Conservative. The two former Liberal seats became vacant because of the recent Liberal victory in Ontario. Elgin West was formerly represented by the present Ontario premier, Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn, and the resignation of Hon. Peter Henry to accept a portfolio in the Hepburn government caused the vacancy in Kenora-Rainy River.

KING GEORGE SENDS JAPAN MESSAGE

Expresses Great Regret at Loss of Life in Typhoon in Orient

London, Sept. 24.—King George to-day addressed the following telegram to Emperor Hirohito:

"I am deeply distressed to hear of the great loss of life and suffering caused by the recent typhoon which swept western Japan and hasten to convey to your majesty and the Japanese people my heartfelt sympathy."

The death list of last week's typhoon had passed the 2,000 mark to-day as workers continued to remove bodies from wreckage the storm caused in Japan's rich industrial area.

CARS WRECKED IN ACCIDENT YESTERDAY

The two cars in yesterday's collision at the corner of Moss and Richardson streets are shown above, shortly after the crash. The top car was driven by W. H. Muncey, local school teacher, and contained five other passengers. The bottom car, a B.C. Telephone Company repair truck, was driven by Harry Hornsby. Mr. Muncey was driving south down Moss Street hill and Mr. Hornsby was proceeding west along Richardson Street. An idea of the narrow escape which Mr. Hornsby had may be obtained from the bottom view.

Four In Hospital After Auto Crash

Mrs. H. S. Jones, 1386 Oliver Street, Badly Injured in Accident Which Sent Five Persons to St. Joseph's Hospital Yesterday

Four persons were in St. Joseph's Hospital to-day following an accident at the corner of Moss and Richardson Streets yesterday afternoon in which two cars were wrecked.

A sedan car, driven by W. H. Muncey, 3018 Blackwood, and containing five other persons, collided with a B.C. Telephone Company truck, driven by Harry Hornsby, 3266 Whittier Avenue. The Muncey car was proceeding down Moss Street hill and the truck was going west on Richardson Street.

Mr. Hornsby and four passengers of the Muncey car were removed to the hospital. Mrs. H. S. Jones, 1386 Oliver Street, was the most seriously injured by the smash, suffering a fractured collarbone and thigh.

Others injured were: Mrs. W. H. Muncey, wife of the driver, who suffered slight cuts and was taken from hospital yesterday evening; Mrs. A. E. Lewis, 544 Cornwall Street, cuts and bruises about the face.

Garry Lewis, aged seven, son of Dr. A. E. Lewis, and grandson of Mrs. Lewis, cuts about the eye.

Harry Hornsby, cuts about the face and shock.

Dr. Lewis and Mr. Muncey were only shaken by the accident.

Mrs. Jones's condition was not described as critical, despite her extensive injuries.

According to the police report, the accident occurred shortly before 5 o'clock. Constables Arthur Rudge, George Clayards and Alex Nichol responded from police headquarters. On their arrival Mr. Hornsby had been taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by Harry Burnett.

SHIP BURNS AND CREW ESCAPES

Canadian Press from Havre
Amsterdam, Sept. 24.—The Norwegian steamship Grenmar was in flames ninety-five miles off Terschelling and the crew had taken to the boats, according to wireless messages received to-day aboard the Swedish steamship Oljaren.

The tug Holland put out to the rescue, but was unable to find the ship. It was believed the Grenmar had sunk.

MORE WIND IS LIKELY HERE

Ocean Storm Moving Up Coast May Strike Victoria; Gale Does Slight Damage

In a moderate northeast gale which reached its maximum velocity of thirty-six miles an hour from 3 to 5 o'clock yesterday morning, Victoria suffered minor damage over the week-end with other cities bordering on the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

Damage around the city was confined chiefly to small boats insecurely moored. Several limbs of large trees were reported down, while the B.C. Electric and the B.C. Telephone Companies experienced some trouble with their lines.

Although the northeast wind persisted during Saturday and Sunday, F. Napier Denison, director of the Gonzales Observatory, stated to-day Victoria need not anticipate a cold snap. There was an ocean storm moving up the coast which might strike the city, he said.

The wind started at 11 o'clock Sunday night and moderated to a breeze about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. It freshened again yesterday evening when its maximum velocity was twenty-four miles an hour.

In accounting for the storm, Mr. Denison stated there was a general gale extending over the straits as far west as Puget Sound caused by the rising barometer over the northern portion of the province and the ocean storm off the Washington coast.

The humidity here was unusually high, being about thirty, the danger line for fire hazards. Rain here on Saturday, however, reduced the hazard despite this.

Temperatures were low in the northern portion of the province. Yesterday morning the mercury sank to 30 degrees, while this morning it dropped another four points to 16 degrees. Edmonton and Calgary experienced sub-freezing weather with temperatures of 14 and 18 degrees, respectively.

Snow fell generally in Alberta. It was heavier in the southern portion where twelve inches were recorded in two days at Qu'Appelle.

FORTY HURT IN THEATRE PANIC

TEXTILE MILLS RESUME WORK

Operatives Throughout U.S. Return to Posts After Three-week Strike

Associated Press
Washington, Sept. 24.—The hum of looms from Maine to Alabama sang the end of the textile strike in the United States to-day. It also signalled a fight to unionize the industry "100 per cent."

"We shall organize all textile workers," said Francis J. Gorman, vice-president of the United Textile Workers and national leader of the strike.

Union chiefs, who led the three weeks' strike that was marked by death for fourteen persons, injuries to about 200 and millions of dollars in losses to both sides, said the membership drive would be particularly intensive in the south.

President Roosevelt, on the basis of a report submitted by his special mediation board, asked the strike end and workers be taken back without discrimination. The strike leaders accepted Saturday.

Signing Cheques Keeps Mayor Busy

Chief Magistrate Appends Signature to 565 Cheques Refunding Overpaid Taxes

With the tedious broken only by thoughts of the pleasure his signature would bring the recipients, Mayor David Leeming was busily engaged at his desk this morning signing 565 cheques which will return a total of $9,408.26 to the pockets of citizens who this year met their taxes in advance through the prepayment system and who overpaid the levies due.

It was a boring job as he turned over cheque after cheque, but it carried a ray of sunshine inasmuch as it revealed the willingness of those with available money to meet their civic obligations.

Endeavour Has Trouble With Big Spinnaker And Trails Defender At Finish

Rainbow Approximately One Mile in Lead as Cup Race Off Newport Ends; Series Now Stands Three For Rainbow and Two For Endeavour; Next Race To-morrow

By ANDREW MERKEL, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Aboard U.S. Coastguard Cutter Mendota, Newport, R.I., Sept. 24.—Boiling down to the finish line and coming up fast on the final tack, the British challenger for the America's Cup, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour, could not overcome a long lead established by the defender, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Rainbow, and lost the fifth race of the series this afternoon.

Endeavour was approximately a mile astern as the white-hulled defender swept across the finish line.

The series now stands at three victories for Rainbow and two for Endeavour. To win the series Rainbow needs one more success and Endeavour needs two.

Sopwith made a good start, but had trouble with his spinnaker and worked out a full mile to westward of the course. Vanderbilt made a big line for the yacht Winchester, which was substituting for a missing boy. Vanderbilt lost time when a spinnaker borrowed from the Yankee split, but took advantage of the accident to jibe over to starboard, necessary in any case.

Sopwith made the shift too late, losing in all 5 minutes to the outer mark or fifteen-mile mark. Coming on the wind for a third to the finish, the challenger seemed to do better, but faced an impossible task.

The official finish was: Rainbow 2:34.05 p.m.; Endeavour 2:38.06, making the defender's official margin four minutes and one second.

NEXT RACE TO-MORROW
Both yachts immediately agreed to race to-morrow.

The elapsed time for the thirty-mile leeward-windward course was: Rainbow 3:54.05, Endeavour 3:58.06. This was almost half an hour over the cup record of 3:24.27 set by Vigilant in the second race against the British challenger Valkyrie II in 1893, and 11 minutes over the time of Endeavour in the first race a week ago to-day.

GALLANT EFFORT
Harassed by an unruly spinnaker at the start, which fouled a jib stay and then tore as it was set, T. O. M. Sopwith and his British crew made a game but futile tail chase most of the way, cutting off a minute on the final fifteen-mile windward leg of the 5-minute advantage Rainbow had built up at the turn.

The defender's spinnaker also split 45 minutes after the start, but (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

PROTEST REJECTION STARTS ARGUMENT

NRA SHAKEUP DUE IN WEEK

Effect of Roosevelt's Proposals on Administrator Johnson is Not Known

Associated Press
Washington, Sept. 24.—The capital heard with keen interest to-day a report President Roosevelt is preparing to announce complete reorganization of the NRA, probably this week.

The Washington Post says a new board to handle Blue Eagle policy-making will be composed of Bernard M. Baruch, Dr. Raymond Moley and other prominent men. Among others mentioned for posts on this board is Gertrude Swackhamer, chairman of the board of General Electric and noted advocate of industrial self-government.

What this would mean for the future of Brig. General Hugh S. Johnson, present administrator, remains to be seen. There were various reports, one that he would have a place in the new organization, and another that he would not.

NAZI BISHOP IS OPPOSED

Berlin, Sept. 24.—A new burst of opposition was an answer to the suggestion of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller yesterday as supreme head of the German church.

Disident clergymen, while Mueller was being installed here, read a defiant declaration which nullified his consecration "the concluding act of a development which must fill Christians with deep shame and sorrow."

STATEMENT AWAITED
No statement has come from the mill operators on Gorman's announcement of a farflung unionization drive. Nor have they yet expressed their views on the report of the mediation board.

Opinions about the outcome of the strike varied. Union leaders claimed a victory in getting complaints before impartial bodies, in regulation of the stretch-out and in taking the administration of labor provisions of the codes away from the NRA. Mill owners expressed themselves otherwise, one declaring the only gain for strikers was "a three weeks' vacation without pay."

Geneva, Sept. 24.—Britain intends to accept no new commitments in continental Europe. Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, was present to-day at a conversation between Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, and Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy, when the independence of Austria and measures to preserve it were discussed.

It was learned, however, Britain still believes Austrian independence should be maintained. The government considers this essential to the peace of Europe, but it is not going to assume any new obligations.

Canadian Press from Havre
Paris, Sept. 24.—A formula for synthetic radium will be officially announced by Mme. Irene Curie-Joliot, daughter of Mme. Marie Curie, at the October scientific conference at Cambridge, England, it was reported here to-day.

Mme. Curie-Joliot and her husband, Dr. Frederic Joliot, have been carrying out experiments in close secrecy for a number of months, it was added. Recently they were said to have been engaged in perfecting their discovery following early successes last July.

and added Kaupmann had had a good night's rest.

The entire arraignment proceedings required only about two minutes. No request for bail was made, and when the proceedings were completed, the prisoner was taken back to the Bronx County Jail. Meanwhile a Bronx County grand jury began consideration of the case.

The jury of twenty-three men was sworn in by Supreme Court Justice Charles B. McLaughlin, who, in giving his instructions, made no reference to the Lindbergh case.

LINDBERGH RETURNING

Winslow, Ariz., Sept. 24.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh left the airport here at 5:30 a.m. M.S.T. today in a resumption of their flight to New York, where they were called by the investigation of Bruno Hauptmann, charged with the kidnapping of the first son.

MURDER THEORY ABANDONED

New York, Sept. 24.—Word came from Germany to-day denying the story of Bruno Hauptmann, charged with extortion in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, that the money found in the side wall of his garage had been entrusted to him by a friend, Isador Fisch.

Paul Fisch, a brother of the friend named, said Isador had returned to Leipzig, Germany, on money borrowed from Hauptmann and died with scores of bills unpaid.

The possibility that Fisch was slain to silence him, voiced in some quarters, was dispelled by the assertion of Paul Fisch that his brother came home a sick man, and died March 29, 1934, of tuberculosis.

A secretary to District Attorney Samuel F. Foley said: "As far as the Fisch angle is concerned, Foley regards it as a case of 'dead men tell no tales.' He is convinced Fisch had no knowledge of the ransom money and that the whole story is only an attempt at alibi for Hauptmann."

U.S. Department of Justice agents, seeking to clinch the solution, set out on the trail of another man, whose connection with the case remains a mystery.

WOMAN QUESTIONED

At the same time, a woman who said she heard men discussing the Lindbergh kidnapping on the night of March 1, 1935—the night it happened—was held for questioning at Atlantic City, N.J., by Department of Justice men.

Police said they were skeptical of the value of her story, but were leaving no clue unexplored. She was booked as Helen Crest, also known as Helen Frisbie.

Dr. Otto Meyer, informed Agent L. G. Turrou of the Lindbergh squad that he had treated Hauptmann from January 2, 1933, until April 17 of that year for a leg ailment, caused apparently by a fracture or sprain within the previous year.

Agent Turrou said footprints outside the Lindbergh nursery window indicated the kidnapper limped away heavily.

Dr. Meyer, expressing belief the original injury must have required immediate attention, advised the authorities to seek another physician on whom Hauptmann might have called.

$50,000 ransom payment was made in the kidnapping case.

The Star said the man, with a handkerchief shielding his face, passed in his car a short distance away while Dr. John F. Condon gave the ransom to "John" in St. Raymond's Cemetery, the Bronx.

He dropped his handkerchief, the paper said, when he reached a spot where he could be seen by Dr. Condon and "John," apparently as a signal that the way was clear.

Even before this, The Star added, experts were convinced the ransom notes had been dictated to the person who wrote them.

Associated Press Correspondent

Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—Still further corroboration of George Paulin's contention he knew Bruno Hauptmann and was tipped before-hand of the latter's intention to kidnap Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was offered to-day by Warden Preston E. Thomas and his daughter Amanda, mail censor at the Ohio penitentiary, Paulin, twenty-seven, is serving a robbery sentence there.

Miss Thomas termed the comment by Samuel J. Foley, Bronx district attorney, that the Paulin angle was a "chance" an "insult to my intelligence."

She and her father mapped out step by step, how they had been able, they said, to learn definitely that Paulin was an old acquaintance of Hauptmann, a carpenter, now held as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnap

SHOWED HEADLINE

"On last Thursday afternoon I heard an announcement that a man named Bruno Hauptmann was held in the Lindbergh case," she said.

"I ran downstairs to dad and said, 'That is the man who wrote all those strange letters to Paulin! I asked dad to get Paulin out and ask him about it.'"

"They brought Paulin in and I told him what I had heard. He would not say anything. Then I went out and bought an extra paper. We showed him the headline. It gave the name Bruno Hauptmann. We did not show him the rest of the story. 'Paulin then said: 'I don't know how he could have killed the child. He was a good enough woodworker to know how to build a ladder strong enough to support himself.' Now, understand, we had not permitted him to read the story. It was not until Paulin mentioned that Hauptmann was a woodworker that we knew he was one."

Warden Thomas told the same story, pointing out it would have been impossible for Paulin to have received word of Hauptmann's arrest before he was called into the warden's office on that afternoon.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 24.—For cementing together a "monument" of teeth, plates, gold bridges and crowns, Dwight Evans, thirty, a dental mechanic, is serving a sixty-day jail sentence.

Dr. P. T. Barron, dentist, charged that at the base of the conglomerate was a sign reading: "This monument is dedicated to the great Dr. Barron."

Dr. Barron said all the material in the "monument" was from his office and had been worth $800 until plastered together.

Rainbow Is Victor In Fifth Cup Race

Vanderbilt's crew broke out a new one from below deck and had it set in 4 minutes, probably a record for sail handling.

USED BIG JIB

Sopwith never was able to get Endeavour's Annie Oakley spinnaker drawing and had to douse it and set a Genoa jib for the latter stages of the leeward leg. It was there that Rainbow built up the big advantage she held safely on the best home.

The breeze was good during most of the race, blowing an estimated fifteen knots at the start and the sea smoothed out after being rough at the start.

SAILED OUT TO LINE

A fifteen-knot breeze was blowing out of the north as Endeavour sailed for to-day's race.

Both sloops sailed out under their own canvas for the first time, bowing along under the breeze and staying in front of the brick breeze.

Early morning rain squalls had ceased and the sun broke through the clouds shortly after 10 a.m., making for excellent visibility from the decks of the spectator fleet.

The committee boat Wilhelmina hoisted signals at 10.15, setting a fifteen-mile course of fifteen miles southwest by south and return.

YACHT SETS MARK

Cornelius Vanderbilt's yacht Winchester was pressed into service to set the marks and went out to place the fifteen-mile buoy at 10.40 a.m. E.S.T.

Both sloops sailed out under their own canvas for the first time, bowing along under the breeze and staying in front of the brick breeze.

which tore was Rainbow's own parachute.

Sopwith finally doused his unruly spinnaker at 11.45.

He also went over on the port tack as the canvas came down and set a Genoa jib.

LEAD OF MILE

At noon Rainbow appeared to be rapidly widening her lead, her new parachute pulling her along beautifully.

It was estimated she had at least a mile lead at that point and was 2½ miles from the fifteen-mile turning buoy.

Turning the mark at 12.15 with a five-minute lead, Rainbow immediately doused her spinnaker and set a double head rig, including her big Greta Garbo jib, for the fifteen-mile beat to the finish line.

She rounded the turn on the starboard tack, but four minutes later went over to port.

Long as Endeavour came around the turn at 12.23 p.m. and went off on the starboard tack, Rainbow following her to keep her covered. Sopwith her to keep her covered.

Endeavour went over to the port tack at 12.43, closely followed by Rainbow.

MARCHED TACKS

Although Vanderbilt had a big lead he was giving the British boat no chance to get from under his lee.

After 12.52 they went back on the starboard tack, Rainbow following every move of the challenger.

Sopwith went back on the port tack at 12.55 and again Rainbow followed.

Rainbow appeared to be increasing her lead and had an advantage of approximately a mile at 1 p.m.

Endeavour went over on the starboard tack at 1.13, closely followed by Rainbow.

Almost half the windward leg had been covered at this point with Vanderbilt covering every move made by Sopwith.

Rainbow was making such good time observers said she might break her own cup record for a windward leg, set at two hours, four minutes, nine seconds in the first race of the current series, a week ago to-day.

Endeavour went back on the port tack at 1.25, with Rainbow right after her. The latter appeared to be losing nothing by manoeuvres and was estimated to still hold a mile lead.

The British challenger tacked to starboard at 1.39, Rainbow followed her closely.

Rainbow was more than a mile ahead, with seven miles to go.

ENDEAVOUR PICKS UP

Endeavour continued on the starboard tack, only eleven minutes and went back to port at 1.50.

The finish mark was now in sight and apparently not over three miles away.

The British boat now appeared to be going better and cutting into Rainbow's long lead.

Endeavour had cut Rainbow's lead to approximately half a mile as they tacked again at 1.54. They now were on the port tack.

TWO MILES FROM LINE

At 2.05 Endeavour went back on the starboard tack, closely followed by Rainbow. The finish mark appeared better than two miles away.

The breeze was increasing as the two yachts bore down on the finish line with Rainbow holding an apparently safe lead.

At 2.25 Rainbow was estimated to be only a mile from home, with Endeavour almost as far behind her.

coroner for East Denbighshire opened an inquiry on the bodies so far recovered. Only ten of them have been officially identified.

The inquiry was held in the village institute within sight of the pithead. Only a thin partition divided the room where the coroner sat from the rest of the hall where the coffins lay.

The hall is normally used as a billiard parlor, and cues and boards covered the walls. Besides the coroner, representatives of the Miners' Union, the Ministry of Mines, the employers and insurance interests were on hand.

At the coroner's request the court stood for two minutes in silent homage to the dead, the only audible sounds being the sobbing of relatives.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL

A general election is due next year. To-day's contests are a sort of preliminary trial of strength, particularly apt because all are in Ontario, which has just turned overwhelmingly Liberal in provincial politics, because of the scattered and varied character of the constituencies and because the government's record is the chief issue with few local issues to obscure it.

Toronto East is a wholly urban seat. West Elgin is partly rural and partly urban, having the city of St. Thomas within its borders. North York is rural and so is Frontenac-Addington, while Kenora-Rainy River has a large labor vote and is in the north country.

G. SPRY'S EFFORT

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Graham Spry, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate in the Toronto East federal by-election, revealed to-day he had appealed to the chief election officer at Ottawa to call the election "null and void."

Spry claimed both Conservative and Liberal organizations had broken the law by canvassing votes on election day.

Harry Johnston, Ontario organizer for the Liberal Party, declined to comment on Spry's charge. He would neither confirm nor deny reports supporting the charge.

One official pursued the election day canvassing it illegal.

NEW PENSION BASIS URGED

Adjustment Officer of Army and Navy Veterans States Views

Canadian Press—Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Readjustment of the pension question, based on human values and the needs of individual cases was urged in an address to ex-service men by Capt. C. P. Gilman, Dominion adjustment officer of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, here yesterday evening on the eve of the annual convention of the service organization.

"In no sense do pensions constitute a raid on the public purse," Capt. Gilman declared. "Pensions are paid on account of disabilities incurred during or as a result of war service. I wish to emphasize that for the good of Canada, as well as for the good of those who suffer without recompense, we should meet this obligation fairly and squarely. We should see that every man and woman justly entitled to recompense receives it to the full limit of our national capacity to pay. Unless we are prepared to have a new concept of pension matters I can see but one alternative if we are to uphold our national integrity in dealing with the disabled and dependent. We must either be prepared to broaden the scope of existing pension legislation and administration or we must wipe out all such legislation and offer to every war veteran a set monthly sum from which he can take care of his family, provide medical and hospital fees and have some sense of security in his declining years."

DEPARTMENTALISM—Capt. Gilman criticized "departmentalism" in dealing with pensions matters. "To-day we are up against regulations which we might call chain-store regulations, the standardization of individuals," he stated.

"The only solution I can see is to obtain a new concept of soldier problems," he added, "the recognition that war is an extraordinary thing and demands extraordinary remedies, and by this I mean a proper understanding."

Refunding Loan Plans Go Ahead

Ottawa Prepares For $250,000,000 Issue to Public Next Month

Canadian Press—Ottawa, Sept. 24.— flotation of the $250,000,000 capital stock of the Bank of Canada, was the feature of last week's governmental activities in Ottawa. Applications for stock poured into the office of Minister of Finance Rhodes in such volume it was announced the issue of 100,000 shares at a par value of $50 would be 100 per cent oversubscribed.

Co-incident with the applications for stock came applications for positions in the central banking institution and it was understood these numbered about 1,500.

It is understood the French-speaking people will make a strong argument for inclusion of a representative on the management and it is possible a French-Canadian will be chosen as assistant deputy governor. The deputy governor will doubtless be secured from the staff of some other central bank within the empire so the institution may have the benefit of his practical experience.

PLANS FOR LOAN—With the central bank shares disposed of the Finance Department will now turn to marketing the Dominion loan slated for this fall. This will be somewhat in excess of $250,000,000, nearly all for refunding purposes, and it will be offered to the public shortly after October 1.

Officials of the Finance Department are busy selecting official receivers under the Farmers' Creditors' Debt Adjustment Act for Ontario and Quebec, as the legislation will come into effect in those provinces on October 1. It is anticipated the maritime provinces and British Columbia will be organized under the act by November, thus bringing the entire Dominion into line.

ELDERLY MAN IS VICTIM OF THUGS

Associated Press—Vinita, Okla., Sept. 24.—Three men beat, bound and tortured a reputedly wealthy "hermit," Earl Seward, near Welch, Okla., yesterday evening.

Seward, aged sixty-one years, was tied to a tree and shot through the palms of both hands. Refusing to give the men any information, a fire was taken inside, bound while a fire was built, and then burned on the feet with a poker.

The terrorists finally gave up efforts to find where Seward cached his reputed wealth, but took $50 from the house.

SOLDIERS THEN AND NOW

Written specially for The Victoria Daily Times By DR. THEODORE GOODRIDGE ROBERTS

NO. 14

During the course of the 2nd Canadian Infantry Battalion's battle of September 9, in which they demonstrated to the hopeful enemy the discouraging fact that the Canadian morale was not only unshaken but on the up-and-up, a lance-corporal of that outfit picked off a Victoria Cross-Lance-Corporal Leonard Clarke and four other grenadiers (bombers) were detailed to clean up on a flank of a newly captured bit of trench and cover a working-party engaged in blocking the trench. They were under a variety of fires, including aimed rifle-fire; and it was not long before Clarke remained the only unhit member of his party. He began the construction of a block in the trench, on his own account, and was attacked by a strong party of the enemy led by two officers. He did not wait for them. Instead, he left his half-built block and went right at them behind his revolver. His pistol empty, he continued his fire and his advance with two of their own rifles. One of the German officers got close enough to bayonet him in the leg—and was killed in the act. The remainder of the hostile twenty turned and ran for it, but the lance-corporal pursued, put four more out of action and collected and fetched home a fifth—a sample to show to his platoon commander. He went to the nearest dressing station, had his leg attended to and returned to duty next day.

TWO KILLED IN PETTY THIEVING CAR ACCIDENTS IN VANCOUVER

Woman Fatally Hurt on Hastings St., Vancouver; New Westminster Death

Canadian Press—Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Two people are dead here as the result of automobile accidents over the week-end and the driver of one of the cars involved is being held on a charge of manslaughter until further investigation by police.

While crossing at the intersection of Hastings and Abbott Streets early yesterday, Mrs. John Hay, fifty, Prince Edward Street, was fatally injured when struck by a car proceeding west on Hastings. She died in a hospital an hour later. Reports state the woman was struck when she stepped out from behind a parked car and was crushed between the two cars and suffered internal injuries and severe injuries to one leg. The driver of the car was held on a manslaughter charge.

At New Westminster, Francis Cuthbert, Brunette Street, was instantly killed yesterday when he was struck down by a car driven by Joseph Lagasse, Cartier Street. He suffered a fracture of the skull and died before the arrival of an ambulance. An inquest will be held.

Twenty-five Saved In Boat Explosions

New York, Sept. 24.—Twenty-five persons were saved when two motorboats caught fire after explosions, and sank. Fourteen, including eight women and two children, were rescued from the Hudson River from the forty-foot cabin cruiser Dot, about 200 feet off shore, at 183rd Street, and were picked up in rowboats. At Ten Mile Point, City Island, about the same time, six women, three children and two men were taken off the thirty-foot launch Dolores, when an explosion, apparently caused by motor trouble, caused a blaze which destroyed the craft. The Dolores was anchored at the time.

TO-DAY'S BY-ELECTIONS

TO-DAY'S BY-ELECTIONS IN FIVE ON- tario ridings should indicate whether the people of that province are of the same mind federally as they were provincially last June. It will be recalled that in the provincial contest the Henry government was soundly trounced by the Liberal party led by Mr. Mitchell Hepburn. A Legislature comprising eighty-five Conservatives of a total membership of 112 was replaced with a new one in which there are sixty-five Liberals of a total of ninety. Redistribution brought about the reduction in the number of legislators.

At the general election in 1930 the following resulted:

Toronto East
Ryckman, Conservative	13,428
Allen, Liberal	6,348
York North
Lennox, Conservative	10,402
Mulock, Liberal	10,104
Elgin West
Hepburn, Liberal	10,020
Dowling, Conservative	8,593
Frontenac-Addington
Spankie, Conservative	7,432
Stinchcombe, Liberal	4,081
Kenora-Rainy River
Heenan, Liberal	6,313
McManus, Conservative	5,811

In to-day's contests two are three-cornered and the other three straight fights between Liberal and Conservative. Here is the lineup:

Toronto East—Major H. P. Snegrove, Liberal; Thomas L. Church, Conservative; Graham Spry, C.P.

North York—W. P. Mulock, Liberal; Harold Bruels, Conservative.

Elgin West—W. H. Mills, Liberal; H. C. Borden, Conservative; R. W. McDonald, Independent.

Frontenac-Addington—W. R. Aylesworth, Conservative; Colin Campbell, Liberal.

Kenora-Rainy River—H. B. McKinnon, Liberal; Joseph Derry, Conservative.

The outcome in Toronto East will be particularly interesting for the reason that Mr. Church is trying to stage a comeback. For seven years he was mayor of Toronto and formerly a member of the House of Commons; but in the general election of 1930 he failed to make the grade in Toronto West Centre when that riding departed from tradition and sent a Liberal to Ottawa. Mr. Church has two redoubtable opponents. The Liberal standard-bearer is Major H. P. Snegrove and the C.C.F. candidate is Mr. Graham Spry, well-known all-over Canada for his secretarial service to the Association of Canadian Clubs and his work in the campaign which resulted in national control of radio in Canada.

Elgin West was formerly represented by the present Ontario Premier, Mr. Hepburn, while the resignation of Mr. Peter Heenan from the House of Commons to join him in the cabinet caused the vacancy in Kenora-Rainy River. Mr. MacDonald, incidentally, was a strong supporter of Mr. Hepburn in the provincial campaign last June. His decision to oppose the official Liberal, therefore, is an indication that political views provincially may be different from political views federally.

Toronto East is a wholly urban seat. Elgin West is partly rural and partly urban, having the city of St. Thomas within its borders. York North is rural and so is Frontenac-Addington, while Kenora-Rainy River has a large Labor vote and is in the north country. Its former member, Mr. Heenan, was Minister of Labor in the King government.

PEACE MUST ADVERTISE

IF THE WORLD WANTS PEACE, IT
 must advertise and create the demand for it, says Mr. Wilson McCarty, writing in The London Daily Mirror and using a description of an American experiment to illustrate his argument.

"War and peace, both products of civilization, are to-day displayed in the show windows of the world's governments more prominently than at any time since 1914. Which product we, the public, shall have, which product we, the consumer, will demand, depends largely, I believe," says Mr. McCarty, "on how each product is presented to us."

"For when I think of the publicity which attends all war, and when I think of the relatively small show we put up for all projects for peace, such as the League of Nations, I cannot but believe that the discrepancy between war and peace is closely associated with advertising."

"Peace displayed in vague terms, as something which is very pleasant but of which we need have no understanding of the priceless ingredients, will never make us go into our governmental shop, as it were, and demand peace."

"War, on the other hand, displayed in the glowing terms of patriotism and national necessity, will make of us—if not active subscribers to demanding war—at least willing purchasers who will answer all too heedlessly, 'Yes,' when there comes to our door the governmental delivery man, saying, 'Here is war—it is for you—will you pay for it?'"

"Such is the power of advertising."

Illustrating Mr. McCarty's article is an American poster showing husband and wife at the deathbed of their young son. The simple inscription embellishing the picture is: "A hospital would save his life... but he will have to die." The reason is that there is no hospital room for him; there is not enough money to build the hospitals which are necessary. It takes a billion dollars a year to run the hospitals already in America, the advertisement points out, but a billion dollars a year is not enough. "You see," it says further, "we spent our money in the war. It was a very expensive war. It cost the nations of the world almost a billion dollars every four days!"

Another advertisement depicts the Lusitania sinking. "So the Lusitania went down—well, what of it?" asks the advertisement. "It was a small matter. One thousand two hundred lives were lost, the papers talked of nothing else for days—but it was a small matter—to count the lives lost in the war one Lusitania would have to go down every day for one year—one Lusitania a day for ten years—for twenty years—for thirty years—one Lusitania a day for seventy years to count all the lives lost in the last war."

Of his own country Mr. McCarty says: "A few years ago we did not dream of demanding modern bathrooms, interference-free radios, silent motor cars, gas and electric cookers. We put up with the horror of dank tubs with tepid water, with crystal set wire-leses that screamed, with cumbersome motor cars which broke down every few miles, with coal fires which required constant attention."

"To-day it would be impossible for anyone to 'sell' us those painful commodities. Advertising has taught us that those old things were costly, inconvenient, and often dangerous."

"But advertising has not yet taught us the true costs of war, the inconvenience and misery of war, the dangers and fatalities of war."

What Mr. McCarty quite naturally thinks is necessary is a really active publicity department for the League of Nations, one which would plaster billboards all over the world for a time to educate the people in the cost, futility, and brutality of war. Only when the public of every nation shall demand that there be no more war will universal peace be within reach.

TECHNICALITIES

 which govern the races for the America's Trophy there is one which provides for the hoisting of a signal flag of protest by the protesting yacht promptly after the incident on which the protest is based has occurred. On the other hand, a rule of the North American Yachting Union provides that a protesting yacht must signify its protest by "showing a flag conspicuously in the main rigging when passing the finishing point."

The committee supervising the races ruled Sopwith's protests out of court on the ground that the first was signalled three hours after the start where the initial incident protested occurred, and the other two hours after the second incident took place.

This technicality, of course, left the main issue untouched, and in view of the requirement as set forth in the regulations of the North American Yachting Union, which Sopwith observed, and in the interests of international good feeling, it should have been disregarded, with the grounds of protests being dealt with on their merits. In that case, if it were known that Endeavour was fouled it should have been awarded the victory; otherwise, of course, it lost.

Technicalities in sport should be reduced to a minimum. There is no sense in holding a contest if it is necessary for lawyers to decide the fine points of procedure. Only Gilbert and Sullivan could do justice in music and verse to the prospect of Sir John Simon and Mr. John W. Davis being included respectively in the crews of the challenger and defender in the races for the America's Cup. The time seems to be opportune for the yachting authorities of Great Britain and the United States to get together and draft a set of rules relative to these particular races which will prevent the emergence of unpleasant controversy.

There is nothing vital to the world in either an international yacht race or any other competition between nations in sport, especially against the bleak background of countless millions of unemployed, many of whom could be maintained for a considerable period on the cost of the series to determine whether Great Britain or the United States can build or sail a better yacht.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

HOW IT'S SETTLED
 The Kingston Whig-Standard

In the long run the decision of what is proper on the beaches is settled by the patrons of the beaches themselves.

WHY NOT SOME REAL ECONOMY?
 The Edmonton Bulletin

If market conditions continue favorable a Dominion loan of $500,000,000 will probably be asked for a month or so hence. The bulk of the money is required for re-funding purposes, and the taxpayers will benefit by whatever amount the interest bill is reduced. The balance, representing new borrowing, will withdraw from pockets and bank balances money now available for business purposes. What that will do to business nobody needs to be told. The effect will be the same as that of taking blood from a man who has been smashed up in an accident and already bled white. The government should issue $500,000,000 of new legal tender currency, pay it to the bondholders, and tell them to go and invest it or spend it. That would do a dozen times more to end unemployment and business stagnation than putting up a string of public buildings, useful but not revenue-producing. Incidentally, it would cut $25,000,000 or more a year off the federal interest bill, equal to one-third last year's deficit, or half the loss on the National Railways.

NOT SO FUNNY NOW
 The Manitoba Free Press

Until recently Sir Oswald Mosley had the same role in British politics as Hitler filled in German politics five or six years ago when he was haranguing audiences in Munich beer halls. He was one of the zany in the picture, a figure of fun, a comedian. Few people in Germany took Hitler seriously when his potent voice was first raised in the land. When Mosley, whose wife was a daughter of the great Tory administrator, Lord Curzon, put on a black shirt and began gathering about him a retinue of sputters and strong-arm performers to promote the Fascist cause, the tolerant English regarded his performances as a comic eccentricity on the part of a young aristocrat. Lately they have begun to take Mosley less humorously. Mosley now has at his command a small army of trained "storm troopers" who drill, wear uniforms and surround their chief at his public appearances. He has the enthusiastic support of a hysterical peasantry, Lady Houston, who devotes a large private fortune to propaganda for the cause.

A THOUGHT

And why beholdst thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?—St. Luke vi 41.
 The greatest fault, I should say, is to be conscious of none.—Carlyle.

Loose Ends

In Vancouver civilization has overwhelmed them—but they can't help it—so it is a relief to escape and come back here—where people know what is what—and what isn't.
 By H. B. W.

SATISFACTION

WHENEVER I feel dissatisfied with Victoria I like to go to Vancouver for a day. That always makes me return home the next morning quite satisfied with Victoria.

Not that I have any serious complaint against our mighty neighbor on the mainland. But it is civilized. You can't get away from that—Vancouver is civilized. It belongs to this mad world and suffers from the world's current madness, in a less degree, perhaps, than Toronto or New York, but the madness is the same. It has got civilization and, like a native African fighting religion, it finds the experience exhilarating, exciting and heady, like strong wine.

I have mentioned it before and it is nothing new, but I can never help feeling surprised, on waking up in Vancouver, to find how different the people are from the people of Victoria. You would think, but for the superficial similarity of language and clothing, that they belonged to another nation. I mean, they have that rushing, worried, intent look which you will see in a somewhat stronger degree on Broadway—the same endless droves of people intent on getting somewhere and really getting nowhere (though mercifully they don't realize that); the same hordes of tired-looking, undernourished-looking, glum, and the universal illusion that all this rush and effort, all these signs of prosperity, all these towering buildings and mechanical equipment really amounted to something and are important.

That is the great distinction between Victoria and Vancouver. Victorians know that all these outward manifestations, all these exotic growths on the exterior of society, really don't amount to anything of importance at all. That, indeed, is the basic difference between civilized and uncivilized people everywhere—the uncivilized ones know what really does matter and the civilized ones don't.

GOLD MINERS

IN THESE times everybody in Vancouver, as far as I can discover, owns a gold mine. If you don't own a gold mine, people look at you as if you didn't own a pair of trousers. I was in three large business blocks in Vancouver the other day and it seemed to me that every office was labeled with the name of a different gold mining company. There must be more men mining in Vancouver than in the hills where the gold lies.

And how they work at their mining! All day long they confer and plan and argue and talk learnedly about feeds and cross-cuts and tonnage—these Vancouver miners who have never handled a shovel in their lives and wouldn't know a diamond drill from a diamond necklace. It is a great industry, this mining in the heart of civilization and, mark you, it is just as sensible as a great deal of the mining in the hills.

"What do you suppose we are really doing in our mining industry?" one successful hard-rock miner asked me, slipping his cocktail and reclining in a large easy chair. "Well, I'll tell you what we're doing. We're spending huge sums to dig gold out of the ground at Bridge River. Then we take the gold and ship it to Ottawa, and pay the cost of shipping it. Then we sink it into the ground again in the government mint and leave it there. Simple, isn't it. It would be still simpler to leave it in the ground at Bridge River. I mean it would save a lot of trouble and the cost of shipment. But then we'd all be broke. So the only useful thing we can find to do these days is utterly useless but, fortunately, nobody has noticed that yet so we're looking forward to a big boom."

season next year. Thank God for the good old gold standard."

HUMANS

A MONTH later I was sitting in an office which overlooks the dismal resort where they hand out relief to the down-and-outs. No gold standard there. Only long lines of ragged, cold-looking fellows, waiting for a weekly allowance, which wouldn't buy a day's drinks for a successful miner up on Granville Street. But here was the funny thing about these destitute fellows—they were all eager to see the results of the yacht races. They crowded about the bulletins in the windows of The Province to see whether an English millionaire had been able to propel a highly-expensive and entirely useless boat through the water faster than an American millionaire.

And standing there in the rain in their ragged clothes, shivering in the first touch of autumn, these down-and-outs argued learnedly about the relative virtues of the English millionaire's boat and the American millionaire's boat. They explained to one another that the British boat was in a strong wind and the American boat best in a weak one. They became very excited when the British boat led and very gloomy when she dropped behind.

The human animal's instinct for combat, for struggle and competition, in their sport, passes understanding, makes economics look drab and foolish. Here were these young fellows, victims of a universal economic madness, victims of a civilization which can't think of anything more sensible than to dig gold out of the ground and put it back again, and yet their chief concern was whether a British yacht could beat an American yacht.

IDEAS

AS YOU WANDER about Vancouver your simple country mind becomes dizzy and overwhelmed with the conflicting ideas of the civilized people who live over there. A great business executive tells you that capital is a strong wind and yet their chief concern was whether a British yacht could beat an American yacht.

Mr. Gerry McGeer holds you with his glittering eye on the street corner to say that the whole fiscal structure of the world, based on debt and usury, is on the verge of collapse, and only a sane monetary system can save it from complete disaster. A noted practical statesman assures you that there is really nothing in these new-fangled notions and even though he has never studied them, he knows there is nothing in them.

But another capitalist, and one of the finest legal brains in western Canada, says the great trouble is that, after studying Gerry's ideas, he can't find anything wrong with them, which is evidently very distressing. He wishes he hadn't studied them and then he could go on comfortably, believing everything was all right.

Up on Granville Street in the evening, when the crowds are surging to the movies, with that intent life-and-death look which is the distinguishing mark of civilization, a ragged fellow stops you and asks you for enough money to buy a cup of coffee, and he doesn't seem to care for two days, and opens his shirt to show us that he has no underclothes.

But a few yards away, in Stanley Park, under a full moon, there are none of these annoyances of civilization—no rush and hurry, only a giant forest that was old when Captain Vancouver first passed there, and the brown, immemorial smell of autumn. Down below in the narrows a liner is coming in, lighted up like something in a dream, and the lights twinkling from the mountains of the North Shore, and dancing in the smooth water, make it easy to think you are in fairyland.

A hundred yards or so from the edge of the park thousands of civilized people are crowding into an auditorium to observe two fat and greasy foreign wrestlers heave each other about on a platform.

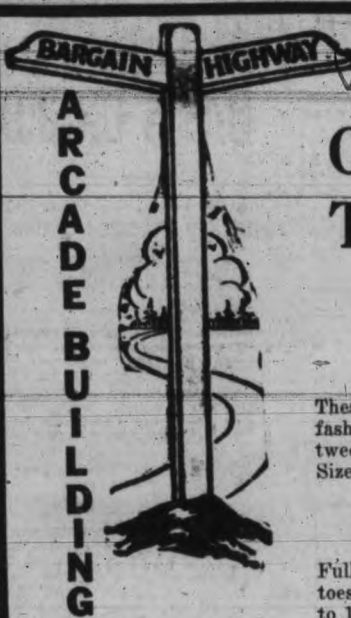

Napanee, Ont., Sept. 24 (Associated Press).—George Douglas Hawley, for thirty years a member of the Ontario civil service and twice Liberal member of the provincial Legislature for Lennox, died here Saturday in his ninety-fourth year. He had been ill for about two years.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

WITH SEPTEMBER
 At the coming of September
 Days are shorter, nights are cool,
 And with treble song and laughter
 Merry children start to school.
 Light of heart, with prancing footsteps,
 They are trooping up the lane,
 Happy with the bliss of childhood,
 Glad to go to school again.
 Only one of all the playmates
 Who have frolicked summer-long,
 Sounds a wailing note of discord
 In the blithe September song.
 She is trooping up the lane,
 Wandering idly by the pool,
 For a little dog is lonely
 When his master starts to school.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
 September 24, 1909
 (From The Times Files)

The purchase of a controlling interest in timber and coal lands on Queen Charlotte Islands by J. A. Moore of Seattle, and Herbert S. Law, a multimillionaire of San Francisco, will mean immediate work on the islands.

Despite the fact that the attendance at the fall fair yesterday set a mark which will be hard to beat during the rest of the week, it is predicted that to-day's crowds will total higher figures than those who passed through the revolving turnstiles yesterday.

The big shipyard made a splendid sight last evening a few minutes after 6 o'clock before an admiring crowd of over 12,000 people at the provincial fair at the Willows fair grounds.

W. B. Langan, assistant freight traffic manager of the western lines of the C.P.R., arrived in the city yesterday from Winnipeg, in company with W. C. Bowles, general freight agent of the Pacific division, and M. H. Brown, general freight agent of the Ontario division of that railway. Mr. Langan is on his annual trip of inspection.

GROWING NEEDS

To the Editor:—A most acute need has been slowly yet surely arising, growing more acute as time goes on. An infirmity for our old people, to accommodate both male and female patients. To this a ward could be attached—a psychopathic ward for preventive work, amongst first nervous breakdowns, thereby saving many a case from a heavy exit to Esplanade from the cells of the city criminal jail, where, from want of room at the provincial hospital, they are often confined, in some cases illegally and without the consent of relatives, thus adding to their suffering an unfortunate sickness. The infirmity should comprise four wards, outer and inner, for both sexes, so that when senility becomes too pronounced patients can be drafted into the inner ward. These inner wards should be excep-

IN UNSUSPECTED PLACES

To the Editor:—For the many unfortunate who were debared from hearing the dean's eloquent appeal at Christ Church Cathedral on September 18, may I epitomize in a word his advice to us sinners: "Let's go to bed!" Let us therefore convert our souls—not by our own weak wills alone, impossible—but by aligning them with the infinite power and will of the Almighty, who will give to each one of us, according to His never-failing promise, and through His everlasting mercy and grace, power to overcome with good the evil that is in us. Let us cast our cowardice and pusillanimity. Let us clothe ourselves in the garment of courage, virtue, righteousness. Like Simon, son of Jonas, let us take on some petrine quality of resilient, resistant, faith, love and steadfastness. Let's put a bit of rock in our shoes.

Exercises At Quadra School

Trustee George Presents High School Certificates

The annual commencement exercises were held at Quadra School Friday afternoon with Geo. M. E. Green, principal, in the chair. Rev. G. A. Reynolds was the chief speaker, and gave a very inspirational address to the graduating body. He advised the students to give close attention to their physical, mental, and spiritual development, as only by the proper growth of all three could one hope to achieve real success.

Trustee P. E. George presented the students with their high school entrance certificates and rolls of honor. The roll of honor for proficiency was won by Gordon Holmes, and that for deportment by Johnnie Blatchford. In presenting the rolls of honor for punctuality and regularity, the principal stressed the necessity of being on time, and asked the students to remember the slogan, "punctuality is the soul of business."

A special prize was presented to Hazel Roskelley, who had won the award in last year's sewing class. Mrs. Miss, regent of Camosun Chapter, accompanied by the standard bearer, educational secretary and others, represented the I.O.E., which order is doing a great deal for worthy pupils of Quadra School. The regent gave an interesting talk to the students on the meaning of the I.O.E. badge.

During the afternoon the grade six choir, conducted by Miss Gilliland, entertained by singing two songs. After the address by Rev. G. A. Reynolds the graduating class, their parents and teachers were entertained at a delightful tea which the ladies of the Quadra P.T.A. had provided.

ALL BUSINESS ON UPTREND

Improvement Definite, Says Head of Ford Co.; Recovery More General Next Year

There is a definite uptrend in the trade of the Dominion, with prospects of all classes of business doing better by next year, states Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd., who was in the city yesterday studying conditions affecting automobile sales on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Campbell's visit to Victoria marked the completion of a six weeks' tour of Canada from the Maritimes to the Pacific Coast, in the course of which he made a close study of general business conditions. At Winnipeg he addressed the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. While here yesterday Mr. Campbell and his party were registered at the Empress Hotel. He had conferences with W. F. D. Pemberton, president, and L. de S. Duke, vice-president, pating changes for increased efficiency in automobiles," declared Mr. Campbell. "Great efforts are being put forth by research departments to make a greater appeal to the eye and purse of the buying public in the development of the car of the future."

Conditions existing in the United States to-day have their reflexes in Canada to a greater degree than in any other of the Dominions, stated Mr. Campbell. He pointed to the great advances made by Australia and New Zealand in climbing out of the depression more by their own efforts than any other influence. He also pointed to the great strides being made by South Africa, which country was producing $400,000,000 in gold this year.

COMPLEXITY OF CODES Mr. Campbell sees no reason why Canada should model any business recovery stimulants along NRA lines and he is not enthusiastic over the application of the NRA to labor, pointing to the apparent difficulties now being experienced in the United States with its complex system of codes.

"There is nothing in the United States programme to warrant Canada's becoming involved in such a complexity of codes," he said. "If there were decided advantages we might take a leaf out of the U.S. book, but there is nothing as yet to justify this country copying the system operating across the border." Mr. Campbell's party included his wife, Mrs. Gladys E. Campbell, O.B.E.; H. P. Cottingham, manager of the Vancouver branch of the Ford Company, and Mrs. Cottingham; R. M. Sale, assistant general sales manager; A. S. Hill, general service manager, and C. E. Best, service manager at Vancouver.

CHINA TALKIES TO COME HERE

Oriental Features in English to Be Screened, Says C. W. Rayden of Shanghai

Talkies made in China, featuring Chinese actors in plays and comedies peculiar to the Chinese temperament, will soon be seen in Canadian and United States theatres, states C. W. Rayden of Probst-Hanbury (China) Limited Shanghai, who was in the city on Saturday on his way back to China.

Mr. Rayden, who will sail this evening by the Empress of Canada, asserted that the Chinese were making notable progress in the production of talkies.

"There are twelve production companies operating in Shanghai and four in Hongkong with four of the Shanghai companies specializing in talkies, and the rest silent," said Mr. Rayden. "The ancient Chinese plays are being revived on the screen, as well as the newer comedies. The productions made for Chinese picture fans are being screened in the Chinese language, while the 'talkies' produced for showing on the North American continent, will be in English, spoken by Chinese actors."

"There is no doubt that the Chinese films will go over big when they are shown over here."

AMAZED AT WASTE The Chinese believe in working along economical lines in movie production and they are amazed at the waste of film in the production of Hollywood features, stated Mr. Rayden.

The Hollywood companies are said to use anything up to 250,000 feet of film in the production of a 7,000-foot picture. The average length of the completed Chinese pictures, he said, was 9,000 feet, although the films made for showing on this continent would be much shorter.

Asked when the Chinese pictures would be available for release in Canada and the United States, Mr. Rayden figured it would be next year.

The Chinese are averse to the domestic triangles which have been so consistently featured by the Hollywood producers, but they have no hesitation in showing the plots of popular productions.

FULL PIGTAIL The most popular American comedians with the Chinese are Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, although the latter suffered in popularity when he pulled the pigtail of a Chinese character in one of his pictures.

The pulling of a pigtail is an indiscretion which the Chinese find difficult to forgive.

Following his arrival in the city yesterday Mr. Rayden met J. Carl Bendary of the British-American Paint Company Limited, with whom he has business contacts.

In addition to chrysanthemum, a number of classes have been arranged for gladiolus, dahlias and dahlias, besides a number of classes for autumn and perennial. No entry fees are required, but prizes should be made with the society not later than Thursday. Table decorations will also be a popular class, whilst for larger growers, a class has been included which calls for twelve square feet of autumn flowers. ## SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

OMELETTE IS EXCELLENT SCHOOLDAY BREAKFAST

By MARY E. DAGUE

"Mother, where's my hat?" "Mother, will you help me with this example. Teacher said I'd have to stay in unless I got it!" All the early morning cries on crisp autumn days are for teachers who must be able to remember where everybody has put everything, answer any questions, however puzzling, and still keep her mind on the main issue, which is to get sufficient food nourishing food down small, often rebellious throats against a long, hard morning.

A substantial breakfast dish that children love is rice omelette. In this the busy housekeeper may combine cereal, eggs and tomato sauce all in one dish to supply three much needed food elements for the daily diet. Served with crisp toast which provides exercise for the teeth, this is a quick and easy breakfast ready by the time schoolbells are in their straps and small faces clean and shining. The rice should be cooked the night before.

RICE OMELETTE

One cup cooked rice, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 eggs. Beat milk and add cooked rice, two tablespoons butter and salt and pepper. Beat well and add the well beaten yolks of eggs. Be sure the yolks are beaten until thick and lemon colored. Fold in whites, which have been beaten until stiff. Melt remaining butter in a hot iron spider or omelette pan. Turn pan until thoroughly coated with butter and make sizzling hot. Pour in omelette mixture and let cook on top of the stove for two minutes to brown the bottom. Then cook in a hot oven until well puffed and firm to the touch. Fold and turn out on a hot platter. Serve with tomato sauce or fresh tomatoes cut in slices and dipped in melted butter and broiled.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Orange juice, rice omelette, crisp wheat toast, milk. Luncheon: Cream of onion soup, croissants, stuffed apple salad, nut bread, filled cookies, milk, tea. Dinner: Planked ham, onion salad, peach custard pie, milk, coffee. Sweet potatoes and spinach timbales accompany the ham. Peach custard is chosen because the meat course is light and low in protein. The pie with its milk and eggs brings the meal into good balance.

DO NOT FOREGO BREAST FEEDING TOO EARLY

The first two or three weeks of a baby's life are seldom ideal. To the mother who is nervous and worried because of the duties of nursing her infant, slight deviations from the ideal assume too great importance.

Mrs. A. W. is ready to give up nursing after two weeks' trial. She is expecting failure. This is a poor state of mind. It makes success more difficult.

DOCTOR ORDERS CATHARTICS

"I would like your leaflet on 'Sweet Milk Formulas,'" she writes. "My baby is two weeks old and I am trying very hard to nurse her but do not know whether I will be able to on account of the cathartics I have to take."

"These disturb baby's sleep. She has a movement in every diaper. Does this hurt the baby? I take the cathartics under doctor's orders."

The cathartics a doctor orders are seldom of such drastic nature as to markedly upset the baby. Mineral oils, which are lubricants and not physics, might be a good choice until you are more active.

OVERFED OR UNDERFED?

A movement in every diaper might indicate two contrary conditions. The overfed baby has frequent movements of this nature, and so has the baby who is being starved.

The way in which to tell the difference is to note the baby's rate of gain. A gain of four ounces a week or less would hint at underfeeding; a gain of seven or more ounces a week at overfeeding.

As your baby is only two weeks old and has just about had time to gain back her birth weight, this next week should tell a more accurate story. Watch the gain. Base your treatment on what you find.

HOW TO ADJUST FEEDINGS

If the baby makes the larger gain, be sure to adhere to four-hour feeding periods undeviatingly, with nothing but water between. Nurse not to exceed fifteen minutes, or a shorter time if baby is satisfied.

For the baby making less than the expected gain, nurse both breasts every four hours. Offer a complementary feeding if this does not result in an improved gain the following week. You may have the leaflet called "How to Figure Complementary Feedings." If you will enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request for it from the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Do not be discouraged. Give nursing a six weeks' trial. Minor difficulties adjust themselves in that time.

Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter—Members of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. are asked to resume the date of Thursday, October 18, which has been decided upon by the executive of the chapter for showing the moving pictures of big game in East Africa, in the Victoria Truth Centre (New Thought Hall), 720 1/2, Fort Street, at 8 p.m. The pictures are being shown by Mr. Frank Pullen, of Oakville, Ontario, who spent two months last winter in the Lake Tanganyika district of East Africa and secured over 2,000 feet of films of a unique character of the game that abounds in that country.

Queen of the Island, L.O.R.A.—The regular meeting of the above lodge will be held in the Orange Hall on Wednesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. After the meeting there will be house-keeping, and refreshments will be served. Sisters and brothers cordially invited.

You and I go separate ways now, Vera," he told her soberly. "We can be friends, of course. "Ah, but that's exactly it! We can't. We aren't any more. That's what hurts. The whole thing was absurd and Tom was suddenly weary of it. He put out his hand.

"Well, talk about this some other time," he said. "It's all pretty foolish. You're tired and overstrained. I don't know how this all started."

She sat up, eyes flashing, bosom heaving. "Well, I do, Tom Weaver. There's no use in hedging. There's something too big here for us to ignore."

It's sweeping both of us into—into—Tom groaned inwardly. This was what his drifting had brought him to, his casual luncheons and conferences. He had found her attractive; he had enjoyed her companionship. Now what?

Gently he said, "I love Gypsy. There's no getting away from that."

"Yes, but—"

"There isn't any 'but' in my feeling for my wife," Tom told her, feeling like a prig and not enjoying it. "Your wife doesn't understand you, darling, and you know it."

"Oh, rats!" Tom grinned but she was not to be turned aside thus.

"She doesn't," Vera insisted stubbornly. "She's domestic and maternal and all that sort of thing—I don't say it isn't. But not for you. Not for you, Tom Weaver! This humdrum life is killing you. It's a treadmill. You used to like adventure."

"I still do."

"Well, what about it? You're tied to a petty round. You can't go anywhere—do anything—her voice rose almost to hysteria. "And it isn't as if she cared anything about you, really. Doesn't she grieve all over town with that engineer chap?"

He reddened. "Leave Gypsy out of it, please!"

"I won't do it," her voice softened and a wheedling note crept into it. "Tommy, you know it. There's no use going into it; you're the only man I ever cared a single scrap about. Let's cut and run—to the far east, China, or some place. Let's have adventures, live life while we have it!"

Was ever man in so deadly a situation, wondered Tom dimly. Seductively lovely, was this woman who held out her arms to him—

"My dear, I tell you—well, both decide we dreamed this scene in the morning. Midsummer madness."

Somewhere he got out into the hall. He ran down the three deep flights of stairs. The ridiculous side of the whole thing flashed upon him and he grinned ruefully to himself as he drew his first deep breath. Would anyone ever believe him if—conceivably, the incident were described. He rather thought not. What would the perfect knight do if confronted with Vera in a stormy mood? He didn't know but he felt he had behaved rather badly throughout it all.

He hurried along, taking prodigious strides. He would have to make some sort of excuse to Gypsy. Better not let her know anything about the matter.

But when he let himself quietly into the apartment it was not Gypsy who came to meet him, but a drowsy bedraggled Elsa.

"Ya, I think you never come," she said dully, getting into her black jacket. "Mrs. Weaver, she says she come home early. I keep your supper hot till after ten o'clock."

Tom listened to her with half his mind. The other half of it was busy with his own annoyed reactions to Gypsy's absence. How dared Vera—lighten of her in connection with Hunt. And yet—yet it was after midnight. She had not returned.

CHAPTER XXI

The summer night was deadly still. Heat lightning flashed somewhere, far off to the north, and indoors the clink of crystal could be heard as heards mingled with the light, carefree voices. Gypsy stood alone on the parapet, her apricot gown floating around her, her face ashen in the dimness.

"Derek!" she whispered faintly. "Derek!" She felt a gnawing nausea at the pit of her stomach. She was desperately afraid she was going to faint. And she continued to stand, as if rooted to the spot, frozen into a dreadful immobility.

Perhaps not thirty seconds had passed, although to her these seconds ticked past like hours, before Hunt's tall form was silhouetted against the light and Hunt's agreeable voice said carelessly, "How're tricks, you two?"

"You two!" With the words Gypsy's immobility cracked and she rushed toward him as to a savior, hysteria in her voice.

"Hunt! Hunt, he's gone!"

"Bliss? Why, he—"

Hunt looked around quickly. "My God, you mean he's—"

He could not go on. He lighted to the rail, looked over. Gypsy flung her hands over her eyes.

"Come along!" He had her hand in his and they were in the candle-lit room again and he was speaking, briefly, quietly. An accident, he said. If someone would come with him—

Lila rose. Her face was chalk white above the black shadow of her gown. Mark's pearls lay on her throat.

"I was afraid of this," she said in a monotone. "I was afraid..."

Chairs were pushed back, voices gabbled. Gypsy noticed dully that someone had overturned a glass of wine and that the stain was spreading over the lace of the runners.

"Give her a drink—"

Somebody. She needs it. Then she saw Davies holding a bottle of smelling salts to Lila's nostrils. One of the pretty young women fainted dead away and had to be carried out.

"It's got to be kept out of the papers," Lila was saying over and over, with deadly precision. "As if thought Gypsy with scorn, as if that mattered now! Everyone would know what had happened. Marko went out with the other men; all the women were left alone. It was horrible. No one knew what to say or to do. Derek—Gypsy simply could not let herself believe this had happened to Derek, with his strong, supple body and his crooked, faunlike smile. Why, less than two years ago he and Lila had made all sorts of preposterous vows to each other: to love, to cherish, to honor. What did it all mean? Was fidelity after all such a worthless thing as all these people seemed to think nowadays? And had Derek perished because he had believed in it?

Every time the elevator door clanged they all turned their eyes fearfully in its direction. The sultry tension grew and deepened.

"I'm afraid I'm going to scream," the girl in the ice-blue confided to Gypsy. "Somebody give me a cigarette, for heaven's sake."

"Oh, my dear, simply ghastly," whispered another. She looked absolutely shattered, but she kept renewing her complexion with fingers that shook a little.

Ruth Chatterton Has Leading Role in "Journal of a Crime" Opening To-day

For the first time since she became a First National star, Ruth Chatterton worked without the presence of George Brent on the set.

In "Journal of a Crime," which opened at the Empire Theatre to-day, Miss Chatterton has a new type of leading man in Adolphe Menjou. This worldly, urbane actor, somewhat more mature than Brent, plays the successful playwright-husband of the star. In only one other film, "Prisco Jenny," was Miss Chatterton seen without Brent in an important supporting role, and during the shooting of this picture the latter was constantly on the set with her.

It happened to be at work on an adjoining sound stage at the First National studios and spent the intervals between his own scenes with Miss Chatterton. This time, however, while "Journal of a Crime" was shooting, Brent was engaged elsewhere and could not pop in—even at lunch time.

"Disgraced" at The Columbia
"I loved him!" is the pitiful defence of a girl who tries to be too modern in the stirring drama, entitled, "Disgraced," which opened at the Columbia Theatre to-day. In leading roles are Helen Twelvetrees, Bruce Cabot, Adrienne Ames, William Harrison and Ken Murray. The picture was directed by Eric C. Kenton.

"Disgraced!" tells the intriguing story of a beautiful girl, dress model. She meets the rich younger set whose standards of living are considerably less rigid than those of the previous generation. From them, the girl gets ideas for living, a code that discards inherited manners and, at the same time, the morals of the generation past.

The added attraction is "I Loved That Man," starring Robert Armstrong.

"High Hatters" Here on Friday
The third of the high-class stage attractions coming to the Empire Theatre this week, "The High Hatters of Rhythm," will open its Victoria engagement on Friday and will also show Saturday and Monday with a midnight matinee on Sunday, one minute after midnight.

This attraction comes to Victoria after successful appearances at leading Pacific Coast cities. Several of the stars have appeared in leading revues of New York City and Chicago and were well spoken of there.

Featured with "The High Hatters of Rhythm" is Ralph Britt, who leads the well-known Victor orchestra. The members of this orchestra have played in many parts of the United States. Mr. Britt and his musical aggregation were chosen for "High Hatters" after making a stand of thirty weeks in the beautiful Tropics Night Club in the Hotel Hotel.

Featured with this orchestra, which forms a musical background for the show, are The Three Musketeers, well-known to the radio world for their novelty tunes and chatter.

William Powell To Appear Here
Never has William Powell appeared in a more magnetic role than as the dashing army officer in "The Key," which will be shown for the first time locally at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow.

In "The Key," Warner Bros. have managed to combine a most unusual romance with thrilling action, the love interest being set in the turbulent days of the Irish revolt of the last decade when Dublin was the seething battleground of the Sinn Feiners and the British authorities.

Not since "Beau Geste" and "Beau Sabreur" has Powell appeared on the screen in uniform, but he makes a gallant figure in the navy tops of a devil-may-care captain who is a bold fighter and a gay dog with the women with whom he flirts outrageously and successfully.

The star has brilliant support in his leading lady, Edna Best, star of the London and New York stages and of English pictures, although this is her screen debut in America.

Strong Cast at The Playhouse

More love tangles than have ever been seen in one picture before will be unfolded on the screen of the Playhouse Theatre when the latest First National comedy, "Convention City," opened to-day. The many love affairs are said to lead to the maddest, merriest situations imaginable.

The plot of the story is unique and novel, centring about the riotous happenings at the annual sales jamboree at Atlantic City, and painting the conventionalists as neglecting business meetings in order to turn playboys.

A strong all-star cast includes, besides Miss Blondell, Adolphe Menjou, Dick Powell, Mary Astor, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh, Patricia Ellis, Ruth Donnelly, Hugh Herbert and Hobart Cavanaugh.

The second feature is "Obey the Law," with Leo Carrillo and Lois Wilson.

CAPITOL THEATRE
"Belle of the Nineties," now at the Capitol Theatre, the third of the Mae West starring pictures to come from Paramount, shows the blonde siren again in a setting of the gay '90's, which was the period of her first picture, "She Done Him Wrong."

Surrounded by three screen sweethearts, Roger Pryor, John Mack Brown and John Hillman, together with Duke Ellington and his orchestra, Katherine DeMille, Warren Hymer and Stuart Holmes, Mae West essays the role of the country's most sensational burlesque queen of the period.

As "American Beauty," Mae West becomes involved with an ambitious young prize fighter, Roger Pryor of St. Louis, but, through the plotting of the prize fighter's manager, the romance is broken up, and Mae West secures an opportunity to leave St. Louis to become queen of a popular gambling palace in New Orleans.

Synod Will Appoint Bishop Co-adjutor to Diocese of Columbia

For the first time in its history, the Diocese of Columbia is expected to have a bishop co-adjutor. A sub-committee of clergy and laymen has been appointed to work with Bishop Schofield to select two or three suitable priests, whose names, among others, will be submitted to the synod for election to this office.

Though Bishop Schofield's health has been restored in considerable measure since his serious illness of eighteen months ago, according to his medical advisers he cannot expect to again carry out the full duties of a bishop. However, if the responsibility of his office were shared with another, the bishop believes he could carry on his work for some years to come.

The executive committee has agreed to appoint a bishop co-adjutor to share in the work of the diocese. Under ordinary circumstances the chief difficulty to such a plan is the financial one, but Bishop Schofield says in his statement: "I have been able to reassure the committee in this regard, for as it happens the endowed archdeaconry is vacant, and my proposal to the synod is that I should appoint the elected bishop co-adjutor to this post, thus securing the major part of his salary. I shall add a contribution from the income of the bishopric, and the synod will then have to provide only a very slight addition to the sum formerly paid to the archdeacon on account of travelling expenses."

"The situation is helped still further, because a generous friend, a member of the church, who wishes at present to remain anonymous, has presented the diocese with a bungalow in the Uplands, and the proposal is that the bishop co-adjutor should have and setting the bishop's close free for the bishop co-adjutor."

Australia took most of the increase, the shipments jumping from $7,312,574 to $12,138,869. New Zealand exports advanced by $671,718, or 24 per cent, and Hawaiian by $186,135, or 42.3 per cent.

The total exports to Pacific countries were 26 per cent higher, increasing from $34,042,315 to $43,274,742. Capture First Inter-provincial Team Fixture; B.C. Squad Is Third

Canadian Press
Scarboro Golf Club, Toronto, Sept. 24.—A brilliant rally on the last nine holes by Miss Mary Hunter, junior champion of the province, gave Ontario a victory here to-day in the first inter-provincial women's team golf match.

The Ontario team of four, led by Miss Ada Mackenzie, who also started out to-day in defence of her Canadian close crown, turned in an eighteen-hole aggregate score of 346, three strokes ahead of the Quebec team.

Although Mrs. C. B. Ford fought courageously to keep the British Columbia squad in the running for the team laurels, her supporting cast failed to come through and had to rest content with third place with an aggregate of 359. Manitoba's representatives finished far in the rear with a count of 387.

A heavy fog enveloped the course, reducing visibility to approximately 100 yards on some of the valley fairways.

URGENT QUICK TAX PAYMENT
Ratepayers Advised to Avoid Last Day Rush; Must Meet Obligations By Monday

Taxpayers of Victoria to-day were advised to pay their 1934 levies before Monday, the final day on which payment may be made without penalty, in order to avoid the delays which are anticipated as a result of the last minute rush of property owners just before the deadline.

Many had followed a course of early payment, it was announced by treasury officials who have reviewed receipts considerably in excess of those collected during the corresponding period last year. Both large and small payments had come in and many more were anticipated during the week as taxpayers with foresight avoided the rush.

And as collections were being made, the officials of department went ahead with preparation of tax sale lists covering property on which 1932 taxes are owing.

Land and improvements included on that list will be up for sale in the City Council chambers on November 5 at the annual sale, which will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, providing the arrears have not been met.

Kidnap Ladder of B.C. Fir
Exhaustive investigation by United States authorities has revealed that the ladder used in the sensational Lindbergh kidnapping in 1932, was made of British Columbia fir and dispatched to the United States in a shipment made by William Johnston of the Johnston-Willett Lumber Company here.

Through carefully picked channels and with Mr. Johnston's co-operation, the United States Forest Products Laboratory definitely established the material used in the ladder as part of that which was made in the shipment made by William Johnston.

Mr. Johnston, who during the investigation was bound over in confidence, although not told what case the lumber was connected with, received a letter several months ago from laboratory authorities.

They questioned him concerning certain technical details of the lumber which they believed had come from the Barnett Lumber Company mill on Burrard Inlet.

The mill had been closed down for some time and Mr. Johnston wrote informing them of this fact. They pressed their investigation, however, offering to meet expenses which Mr. Johnston might incur in assisting them, and it was then that he suspected there might be some connection with the abduction.

STARTS SEARCH
Mr. Johnston then located the former foreman at the mill who was unable to assist him. Later he found the planer-man and together they went to the mill and discovered samples of the wood required cut by a machine turning a certain number of revolutions and answering other technical descriptions.

It was discovered the shipment in question was sent to Cooney-Eckstein, New York brokers, who had sold it to the Hopewell lumber yard, to which Bruno Hauptmann apparently had access.

Mr. Johnston stated this morning his share in the investigation was completed about four months ago and since that time he had been searching for someone who was in the lumber yard or that might have obtained lumber there.

Bowers Nets Three In Derby's Victory

Plays Brilliant Game as His Team Defeats Sunderland in English Football; Hanson Gets Pair in Liverpool's Splendid Win Over Leeds

London, Sept. 24.—Manchester City and Preston North End, the latter making a remarkable bid for promotion from the second division, are riding in front of the championship race of the English Football League.

Saturday's entire schedule was played under the sorrowful pall of the mine disaster which took a hundred lives or more in the Gresford colliery at Wrexham. Wrexham's eleven, in the third division's northern section, was scheduled to entertain the section leaders, Tranmere Rovers, and the miners had been looking forward to the match.

There were suggestions the match at Wrexham should be played. But the club secretary explained the entire team thought that by playing they would help to turn the people's minds from the appalling disaster. The match went on, the teams standing for two minutes in silence, and Wrexham held Tranmere to a draw in the first division. Sunderland lost its slim lead as Derby County won, 4 to 1. Manchester City beat Leicester 3 to 1, and Preston beat Chelsea 2 to 0, the two gaining a point advantage over Sunderland.

Everton went into a tie with Sunderland for the second bracket, by beating Huddersfield 4 to 2. The Arsenal remained back in fifth place. Bolton Wanderers, alone undefeated, beat Bradford City 3 to 0 to hold a full game leadership over Bradford in the second section. Newcastle United won another match at the expense of Plymouth, 3 to 1.

Though beaten by Bristol City 3 to 0, Millwall managed to keep on top of the southern section, a point ahead of Charlton Athletic. Charlton were held to a tie by Bristol Rovers. In the northern, Chester and Halifax both won to draw on even terms with Tranmere.

BOWERS IS STAR
Sunderland's defeat was a considerable surprise. Derby's boisterous methods did not allow Sunderland to settle down and Bowers, their international, drew first blood. Sunderland equalized only when Nicholson knocked the ball through his own nets. Garnay struck the Sunderland posts, then Bowers scored twice within five minutes. Duncan got the winners' other goal.

One of the best matches was at Leeds, where Liverpool won 3 to 0, turning in a great brand of football. Hodgson scored in ten minutes and Hanson in a half an hour. After the half Hanson scored again, Hodgson played a brilliant game.

For a time it looked as though Bolton's undefeated record might be spoiled. Play between the Wanderers and Bradford City was even. After the interval, however, Eastham scored for Bolton. Just before the whistle Cook and Westwood added two more.

Newcastle United played Jack Smith, their new center-forward from Huddersfield, and seemed to have the better of their tussle with Plymouth. Smith scored for Newcastle six minutes after the half. Vidler equalized, but Newcastle kept on top, Leach and Richardson scoring.

Millwall suffered its first defeat in the match with Bristol City, Brinton getting a surprise win from Follyards in the twelfth minute.

Glasgow, Sept. 24.—Clyde remains the only unbeaten team in the first division of the Scottish Soccer League, following Saturday's fixtures in which Rangers forced a first tie to Clyde for leadership of the race. St. Johnstone met its first defeat in a surprising upset at Falkirk, which won its first match of the season. The score was 3 to 0.

Rangers and Clyde now lead St. Johnstone by a single point, with Motherwell next, another point behind.

Saturday's fixtures were played in wet weather and the grounds were heavy. It was Hartman's strength on the heavy going that gained Falkirk's success, the English recruit having all three goals.

In Clyde's tussle with Aldershot, no goals were scored by either side. Clyde was on top in the first half, but couldn't keep the advantage.

TWO PLAYERS HURT
Rangers picked up the needed points by repeating their cup victory over St. Mirren, 2 to 0. St. Mirren had Nichol and Latimer injured in the second half. McNeill and Smith tallied for the champions.

Motherwell beat Kilmarnock 3 to 2 at Fir Park, but they nearly lost a point, as Robertson missed a penalty shot that would have tied it up. M. McMenemy, Stevenson, and Forster scored for Motherwell, Robertson and Williamson for Kilmarnock.

Heartle registered a 3 to 1 victory at Partick Thistle's grounds. Miller scored for Motherwell, and the other came from a penalty. Crawford setting the losers' counter.

Warwick scored for Aberdeen in the first minute against Celtic, but the visitors were outplayed after that and lost 4 to 1. P. O'Donnell had two goals, Murphy and McNally the others.

WESTS-THISTLES SOCCER VICTORS

Two up with a pretty shot to the top corner of the net near the penalty area line.

Sanich saved shortly after the Thistles when the City forwards worked in on a neat combination play and half-time came without any further score.

Sanich replaced Bords with Holmes as the second half opened and the City started with the wind at their backs.

The suburban boys broke from the kick-off and came close to scoring. Payne missed a good pass from Gibson shortly after to pass up a good scoring opportunity for the City and Bows was pressed hard but cleared after a narrow escape, throwing the ball behind for a corner.

Earlier kicked to the goalkeeper but the ball went behind again for a corner.

Harper, Sanich, charged Stofor shortly after and the City gained a foul just outside the penalty area. The kick failed.

The City boys were crowding the Sanich goal when Barnswell shot over the bar.

The ball swung from end to end as the backs cleared with good kicks. SALE SCORES

Jack Payne swung in a nice cross which Bows batted out and Sanich broke away up the field. Sage got his foot to the ball to shoot it home for the Thistles' third counter. Hood was not receiving good enough protection from his backs. The wind fell and rain began to fall.

Keeping play up-field with heavy kicking, Sanich sent their forwards on the attack and Holmes nearly got through twice. Well on in the half, Stofor carried the ball along the wing and swung over a nice cross which Barnswell rapped in for the City's lone counter.

Sanich boys pressed hard from a corner but could not make their attack count before the City raced away on a good effort, but lost control of the ball deep in their opponent's territory.

The Thistles returned to the attack and forced two corners in quick succession, but were unable to make them count.

In the closing minutes Sanich made several good sorties, but the City finished up with a final rally to go down fighting with the score still 3 to 1 against them.

Ralph Alcock refereed. The teams were as follows: Sanich: Thistles: Bows, Easler, Harper, Robertson, Crowe, Spiller, Viggers, McCall, Sage, Bords, Brown and Holmes. Victoria City: Hood, Griffin, Halkett, Moore, Robbins, Gibson, Hodgson, Barnswell, Stofor, J. Payne and G. Payne.

Lone Game Between Detroit And Title

One More Victory For Tigers Or Defeat For New York Yankees Will Give Mickey Cochrane's Club American Baseball League Title; Giants and Cards Both Split Twin Bills

Detroit Tigers had reached the stage of the American League pennant race where they could be tied but not beaten to-day and New York Giants probably were looking upon them with eyes filled with envy.

By dividing a double-header with the St. Louis Browns yesterday, winning the second game 2 to 1 behind Al Crowder's steadiness, the Tigers reached the point where one more victory out of five games or one Yankee loss in six would settle the argument. They got there, even though the Yanks took two close decisions from the Boston Red Sox, 1 to 0 and 4 to 4, to clip a game off the Tiger lead.

Meanwhile the Giants continued their struggle to reach the end of the campaign before the St. Louis Cardinals could overhaul them with no gain or loss resulting from yesterday's bargain bill. Both contests were split even, the Giants beat Boston 8 to 0 in the opener on Parmelee's four-hit pitching then dropped an eleven-inning aftersupper 4 to 3. The Cards also took a 4 to 3 defeat in their second after pounding out a 9 to 7 decision over the Cincinnati Reds and remained three games behind.

Cleveland Indians were the only team to show any real profit among the teams eliminated from pennant races. They rounded the Chicago White Sox twice, 2 to 1 and 5 to 1. Washington took one game from the Philadelphia Athletics 2 to 1, but the second wound up in a 5 to 5 tie when Herman Hallahan, Halves, J. Dand and Delaney Davis, Frey, Richmond, Johnston, Kleinhaus and Lombardi.

The Chicago Cubs turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 3. The Pirates and Brooklyn Dodgers split an overtime twin bill, Philadelphia going thirteen innings to take the first game 4 to 2 and Brooklyn winning the second 7 to 3.

Mainland Marksmen Win Butchart Shield

Defeat Victoria Team By Four Points in Team Contest Classic of Season at Heals Range Over Weekend; Tie For First Place in Weller Cup Event

Vancouver marksmen were home to-day in possession of the Butchart Shield, feature inter-city team match of the year, following their victory by four points over a representative team carrying the colors of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association.

The mainlanders' total was 1,113. That encounter was the outstanding engagement at Heals Range over the week-end.

But scarcely below it in local interest was the shoot-off for the Weller Cup. After Green Spencer had led the field by a margin of eleven points and had been debarred from receiving the award, which this year is up for service and excellence, he was prevented from annexing the cup, were in a triple tie with scores of 271 apiece for the three shots.

Their totals were eleven points below that of Miss Spencer, who registered 282.

BUTCHART SHIELD
In the Butchart Shield event, the tall of Victoria's team fell away after the crack shots had beaten the mainland representatives. Gunner Rasmussen and Bandeman P. Major Hockey Circuit Clears Away Storm Clouds at Boston and Chicago in Preparation For Opening Games on November 8; Penalty Shot Is Adopted

New York, Sept. 24.—Storm clouds which had hovered over National Hockey League affairs for the last few weeks had blown away to-day and the major league looked forward confidently to the new season opening November 8.

League magnates, meeting Saturday under the guiding hand of President Frank Calder, successfully disposed of the troublesome Boston and Chicago risk problems, adopted a forty-eight-game schedule, approved of the penalty shot and sliced a chunk off player salary limits.

Calder announced Major Frederic McLaughlin of the Black Hawks and C. F. Adams of the Bruins had reached an agreement with the rink owners at Chicago and Boston, respectively, regarding the rental for the coming season.

A special committee composed of Conny Smythe, Toronto Maple Leafs, as representative of the rink owners, and Leo Dandurand of Montreal Canadiens, as a club owner, and Calder, drew up a "fair rental" plan that was accepted by James Norris, owner of Detroit Red Wings and major stockholder in the Chicago Stadium; Col. John S. Hammond of New York Rangers, who represented Boston Garden interests; Major McLaughlin and Adams.

STIFF DEMANDS
Terms of the agreement were not disclosed but Adams said Boston Garden had asked for a guarantee of $400,000 for five years, with the privilege of an option on 40 per cent of the receipts. He had offered $50,000 for the Bruins' scheduled twenty-four home nights the coming season, 40 per cent of all receipts between $200,000 and $250,000 and 50 per cent of the take above $250,000. He said the Bruins averaged $300,000 during a normal season.

The Chicago Stadium owners demanded 40 per cent of the gross receipts from Major McLaughlin and he had declared he was determined to pay no more than last year, or 35 per cent.

There was practically no opposition to the adoption of the penalty shot, born in the fertile brains of Lester and Frank Patrick when they were active as managers and club owners in the old Pacific Coast League.

The Patrick, Art Ross of Boston and Bill Tobin of the Black Hawks, thoroughly familiar with the shot, were enthusiastic about its adoption in the N.H.L. code.

The quartette predicted it would be given a glad welcome by eastern fans. The penalty shot will be delivered from a ten-foot circle thirty-eight feet in front of the goalkeeper. The latter will not be allowed to move more than a foot in front of his goal-line. The sharpshooter can deliver the shot from a standing position or while skating full speed. Any player, except one in the penalty box, can make the shot, which will be given only if an attacking player is fouled when in good scoring position.

Frank Patrick and the other penalty shot experts believe the goalkeeper has a sixty-fourth edge over the shooter. The Boston coach estimated one shot in three would bring a goal and that one a game.

The new salary limit was placed at $63,500 per club, a reduction of $2,500, and the new individual limit at $7,000, a cut of $800 from the previous limit. Pittsburgh, represented by James Callahan, was granted permission to retain its franchise which, however, will not be operative this year, although Callahan expressed optimism the smoky city would be back in the circuit before another season rolls by.

Empress of Russia Here From Orient

Liner Docked This Morning With Small List of Passengers and Heavy General Cargo; Leaves Silver Shipments Here

With a small but interesting passenger list and a heavy general cargo of Oriental freight, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia reached the Althea pier this morning at 7:40 o'clock from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. She proceeded to Vancouver at 11 o'clock.

Capt. A. J. Hosken, R.N.R., master of the liner, reported that weather across the north Pacific. It took nine days for the voyage from Yokohama.

There were 185 passengers on the liner, the majority of whom were Orientals in the steerage. The ship brought 4,200 tons of general cargo, including 180 tons for Victoria. ## JAPAN TAKES Two Ships Collide On Atlantic Coast

Most Popular Game There, Says Tokio Sports Writer, on Way to World Series

"I would not say that baseball is Japan's national game yet, but it is most certainly the most popular game among the younger elements," stated Sotaro Suzuki, one of the sports writers of The Yomiuri-Shimbun of Tokyo, who arrived in Victoria this morning aboard the S.S. Empress of Russia on his way to cover the World Series for his paper and to arrange for a visit of Japan's first professional baseball team to the United States next spring.

Baseball, Mr. Suzuki reported, is being played in all the schools and colleges and universities of Japan and the big games attract thousands of spectators, he said. Every spare lot in the city of Tokyo has its baseball game in progress during daylight hours, he said, and girls as well as boys are taking a great interest in the game.

GAMES PLANNED

The team which Mr. Suzuki will bring to Japan next spring is the first professional one ever formed in Japan and as such will be the first to ever visit North America. About 100 games will be played, mostly in Pacific Coast cities, Mr. Suzuki, and there is little probability of the team coming to Canada. This team is sponsored by the Dai-Nippon Baseball Club, at whose head is the Marquis Okuma, of the House of Peers.

After visiting eastern cities Mr. Suzuki will join an American baseball team, composed of Babe Ruth, "Lefty" Gomez, Earl Whitehill, Brown, Charlie Gehringer, Lou Gehrig, and Gehringer, and will come to Victoria October 30 by the S.S. Empress of Japan, where the Americans will play in a series of games in leading cities of Japan.

There is very little about baseball that Mr. Suzuki does not know. He follows every big league game in the United States and has met many of the prominent players during his six previous visits to the United States. He received the greater part of his education in Japan, but also attended Columbia University for a term.

HOLD-UP PAIR FOILED BY GIRL

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Two would-be bandits were neatly thwarted here last Saturday evening by Miss E. K. Seaton, clerk at Seaton's grocery store, Nanaimo Street.

Noticing two young men acting suspiciously in front of the store just before closing, Miss Seaton rushed to the door, slammed it shut and locked it. Seeing they were about to be foiled, the men rushed to the door, pushed vainly, and demanded entrance. In her report to police the young girl stated there was a revolver protruding from one of the men's coats.

Falling to force entry, the men hurried to an automobile at the curb and drove off.

Preparations Complete For Liner's Launching

Expect 100,000 Spectators When Queen Mary Christens the 534 at Clydebank Yards on Wednesday

London, Sept. 24.—Final preparations have been completed for the launching of Great Britain's mammoth ship No. 534 at Clydebank, Scotland, on Wednesday, Sept. 27.

She will slide down the ways at 2:50 p.m. (Greenwich time) or 9:30 a.m. eastern daylight saving time in Montreal (6:30 a.m. Victoria time).

National interest in the launching of the giant Cunard White Star liner has been kept up to a fever pitch, particularly since the secret of its name has been carefully guarded and still remains a mystery. Rumors to the contrary, the world will not know the name of the ship until it is pronounced by Queen Mary and radioed to all parts of the globe.

King George and Queen Mary are expected to arrive by motor at Clydebank shortly before the ceremony, accompanied by the Lord Provost of Glasgow and other officials.

The launching ceremony, which will be presided over by the King, will be completely remodelled and transformed into a sumptuous dining-room for their Majesties, and will accommodate 1,000 special guests seated at long tables.

After this ceremony, known as the royal address of welcome, the King and Queen will be escorted about 150 yards along a special ramp to the launching platform or dais which is
